Corporate Risk Services

G4S's team of security consultants is unparalleled in the industry and consists of recognized experts with functional expertise across multiple competencies. We have successfully provided clients with detailed protective solutions in a wide range of sectors within corporate, private and government organizations. We work with customers to create and implement integrated strategies focused on reducing risk and enabling success.

Secure Integration

G4S envisions, designs, builds and maintains security technology systems to meet all our clients' needs, regardless of the size, complexity or location of the project. Our knowledge of a wide range of technologies, products and systems, combined with strict attention to design details, provides cost-effective, reliable and scalable solutions. We help customers create standards and exceed compliance regulations, from development through installation and ongoing maintenance.

Security Personnel

G4S provides specialized security personnel, management and software to accelerate safety and security programs to new levels of performance. We offer a variety of security personnel services backed by rigorous recruitment standards and robust training programs. Our integrated technology, including Secure Trax® and RISK360™, enables customers to proactively manage their security personnel and incidents.
